Fixed Income

The Fund can invest up to a maximum 70% of its NAV in fixed income instruments. In buying and selling fixed income instruments for the Fund, the Manager uses active tactical duration management (where duration of the portfolio of the Fund will be monitored and modified according to interest rate outlook without any portfolio maturity limitation), yield curve positioning and credit spread arbitraging. This approach also involves an analysis of general economic and market conditions. It also involves the use of models that analyze and compare expected returns and assumed risk. Under this approach, the Manager will focus on fixed income instruments that would deliver favorable return in light of the risk. The Manager may also consider obligations with a more favorable or improving credit or industry outlook that provide the potential for capital appreciation. In the event that outlook for fixed income investments is not conducive, the Fund can choose to have a minimum exposure of 30% in fixed income instruments. The Manager will also employ an active trading strategy in managing the Fund.

The Fund invests in Malaysia and to a lesser extent, in foreign eligible markets.

The Fund is actively managed. In an adverse market condition, the Manager may reduce its portion of higher risk assets such as equities and increase its asset allocation in assets that carry lower risk than equities such as fixed income instruments at the expense of the equities asset allocation (i.e. to increase the allocation in liquid assets or fixed income instruments), to safeguard the return of the Fund.

The fourth paragraph of the investment strategy of AmIslamic Balanced under “Section 3.1.4 Mixed Assets Funds” is hereby updated and replaced with the following:

The Fund invests in Malaysia and to a lesser extent, in foreign eligible markets.

Notwithstanding the aforesaid, in times of adversity in equity markets, the Manager may reduce the Fund's portion of higher risk assets, such as equities and equity-related securities and increase the Fund's asset allocation to lower risk assets, (i.e. to increase liquid assets allocation beyond the stipulated asset allocation limit), to safeguard the investment portfolio of the Fund. Once the asset allocation has been decided, the Manager will then select CIS to fit the asset classes. In evaluating the suitability of a CIS for investment, the Manager will, amongst other factors, review the track record, investment objective, investment policies and strategies, fund performance, income distribution policy and cost factors of the CIS. The Manager will review the asset allocation of the Fund at least on a monthly basis. The information on suspension risk is hereby inserted under “Section 3.2.1 General Risks Associated with investing in a Unit Trust Fund”:

Suspension Risk

Refers to situation where the Manager suspends dealings of units in a fund (no redemption or subscription are allowed) under exceptional circumstances as set out in “Temporary suspension of determination of NAV and of the issue, switching and redemption of units” under “Section 6.8 Other Relevant Information When Making an Investment”. Suspension of a fund may potentially result in unit holders not being able to redeem their units into cash based on their liquidity needs and their investments will continue to be subject to the risk factors inherent in the Fund.

The information in relation to “Liquidity Risk”, wherever it appears under “Section 3.2.2 Specific Risks Associated with the Investment Portfolio of a Unit Trust Fund” is hereby updated and replaced with the following:

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk refers to the ease of liquidating an asset depending on the asset's volume traded in the market. If the Fund holds assets that are illiquid, or are difficult to dispose of, the value of the Fund and consequently the value of the Unit Holders' investments in the Fund will be negatively affected when it has to sell such assets at unfavourable prices.

Page 50 of the Master Prospectus

The information in relation to “Specific risks that an investor may face when investing in Asia Pacific Equity Income” under “Section 3.2.2 Specific Risks Associated with the Investment Portfolio of a Unit Trust Fund” is hereby updated and replaced with the following:

Stock Specific Risk

Prices of a particular stock may fluctuate in response to the circumstances affecting individual companies such as adverse financial performance, news of a possible merger or loss of key personnel of a company. Any adverse price movements of such stock will adversely affect the NAV of the Fund.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk refers to the ease of liquidating an asset depending on the asset’s volume traded in the market. If the Fund holds assets that are illiquid, or are difficult to dispose of, the value of the Fund and consequently the value of the Unit Holders’ investments in the Fund will be negatively affected when it has to sell such assets at unfavourable prices.

Currency Risk

As the investments of the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the base currency of the Fund and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. Investors should be aware that if the currencies in which the investments are denominated depreciate against the base currency of the Fund, this will have an adverse effect on the NAV of the Fund in the base currency of the Fund and vice versa. Investors should note that any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the investment.

Income Distribution Risk

It should be noted that the distribution of income is not guaranteed. Circumstances preventing the distribution of income include, among others, insufficient realised returns to enable income distribution.

Concentration Risk

This is the risk that the Fund may be overly concentrated in a few regions. As such, developments affecting any of those few regions may affect the NAV of the Fund more adversely as compared to a scenario where the Fund is more diversified across many regions.

Risk Associated With Investments in Equity-Related Securities

The Fund may also invest in equity-related securities such as warrants that are capable of being converted into shares. As warrants are linked to the particular equity securities from which they are derived, the warrants inherit the risks linked to that underlying equity security such as market risk, currency risk, industry risk and liquidity risk. For investments in warrants, a movement in the prices of the underlying securities of the warrants will generally result in a larger movement in the prices of the warrants, that is, higher volatility. In the event of a decline in the market, warrants can lose a substantial amount of their values, far more than the underlying securities and vice versa. Warrants also have a limited life and if they are not exercised at the maturity, they will expire and become worthless causing the value of the Fund’s investments to fall. Like any other investments, the fall in the value of the Fund’s investments will ultimately lower the NAV.

The information on liquidity risk management is hereby inserted under “Section 3.2 Risk Factors”:

Liquidity Risk Management

In respect of liquidity risk management, the Manager identifies, monitors and mitigates liquidity risks of the Fund on an on-going basis to ensure that the liquidity profile of the Fund's investments is able to comply with the SC's regulatory requirement to meet redemption proceeds within a stipulated period. In doing so, the Manager will consider factors which include liquidity of the Fund's holdings, any investor concentration and the Fund's ability to respond to any sizeable redemptions, if any.

The Manager may combine the following liquidity management tools:

- Borrowing of up to 10% of the Fund's NAV from financial institutions.
- Suspension of dealing of units of the Fund (due to exceptional circumstances, where there is good and sufficient reason to do so, considering the interests of Unit Holders) as a last resort after all other liquidity risk management tools have been exhausted. Any redemption request received by us during the suspension period will only be accepted and processed on the next Business Day after the cessation of suspension of the Fund. Please refer to "Temporary suspension of determination of NAV and of the issue, switching and redemption of units" under "Section 6.8 Other Relevant Information When Making an Investment" on page 23 for further information.
