Target Fund Manager's Commentary (as at 31 July 2024)

Q2 results of Chinese Tech giants beat estimates; Dual primary listings of Alibaba may be achieved by the end of August, potential to be added to Stock Connect on September 24.

AMPT will be added to Hang Seng TECH Index (HSTECH Index), while Ping An Healthcare and Technology will be removed. Hang Seng Index's Company announced the results of its quarterly index review on August 16. There is no change to the Hang Seng Index, with the total number of constituents unchanged at 82. The total number of HSTECH constituents remains unchanged at 30. All changes will be implemented after market close on 6 September 2024 and take effect on 9 September 2024.

In the July Politburo Meeting, the government sent a supportive policy tone, echoing the "Third Plenum" communique. It required "macro policy to remain supportive and be more effective", called for "strengthening the counter-cyclical policy adjustments". It pledged to increase policy reserves as early as possible, to launch incremental policy measures at a proper time. Fiscal policy: Faster issuance of special LGB (which reached RMB 1.78 trillion in Jan-Jul, 46% of 2024 annual quota and RMB 722bn smaller than a year ago) and better use of special CGB. Consumption: Pledge to "increase household income via multiple channels", increase the middle- to low-income groups' capacity and propensity to consume; "services sector as an important starting point in expanding and upgrading consumption." Property: Better implementation of property policy easing measures rolled out in mid-May, including inventory purchase for social housing purpose.

Growth momentum stayed weak in July, and more policy support is likely needed. According to NBS data and UBS analysis, July retail sales growth edged up to 2.7% yoy from the unexpected weakness in June (2% yoy) while manufacturing and infrastructure FAI remained resilient in July, all mainly due to lower base last year. Property activities remained weak, with seasonally adjusted new starts volume stabilized in July vs June but still lower than Q2 average, and property sales edged down further. Meanwhile, export growth cooled yoy but real export volume remained solid. Loans to the real economy contracted, while total social financing (TSF) growth edged up on a low base.

Global EV sales up 21% in July as China records biggest jump of 2024, Rho Motion says. Global sales of fully electric and plug-in hybrid vehicles rose by a yearly 21% in July, thanks to China's strongest growth this year and despite dropping demand in Europe. EVs sold worldwide were at 1.35 million in July, of which 0.88 million were in China, where they were up 31% year-on-year, the data showed.
