Investment Policies	The Target Fund is actively managed and in order to achieve the investment objective, the Target Fund will invest in a portfolio of Shariah-compliant equity and Shariah-compliant equity-related securities (including, without limitation, depository receipts such as Shariah-compliant global depository receipts ("GDR") and American depository receipts ("ADR"), but excluding Shariah-compliant preferred shares and sukuk) listed or traded on a regulated market (as set out in Appendix 1 of the Target Fund's Prospectus), of companies engaged in activities (exploration, mining and processing) related to gold, silver, platinum or other precious metals or minerals. The Target Fund will not invest directly in physical gold or silver bullion or in securities where the underlying investment is in such commodities. The Main Investment Manager will select equity securities as described under the investment strategy of the Target Fund. The Target Fund may hold ancillary liquid assets including money market instruments, being commercial paper or non-interest-bearing certificates of deposits or deposits with one or more financial institutions in accordance with the general investment restrictions as set out in the section of the Target Fund's Prospectus entitled Investment Restrictions. The Target Fund shall invest with a global focus. The Target Fund will invest only in securities that are deemed to comply with the Shariah criteria as approved in the Fatwa dated 29 September 2006 or with specific approval of the Shariah adviser of the Target Fund, as set out in the section entitled Shariah Investment Guidelines. A "Fatwa" is a religious ruling issued by the Shariah Supervisory Board after an assessment that the structure and documentation of the Target Fund are Shariah-compliant. The Fatwa is a precondition in order for an investment fund to be marketed to investors as Shariah-compliant.
Investment Strategy	Securities are selected by the Investment Manager using a proprietary investment framework that aims to exploit pricing inefficiencies through active management. The two (2) major contributing factors to the Target Fund's selection process are described as follows: Top-Down Process The Investment Manager utilises a proprietary relative-value framework to evaluate risk at an individual company-level by segmenting the investment universe to compare and rank the relative value of each based on the following criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Size: companies are grouped into categories based on production growth, size and funding requirements; and • Quality: companies are grouped into categories based on quality criteria where factors such as free cash flow, capital expenditure, balance sheet health, regulatory risk and country risk are considered. After the companies are grouped using this relative-value framework, an intra-group evaluation is undertaken to monitor movement of companies within the relative-value framework and to identify investment opportunities, taking into account criteria such as valuation and qualitative factors (as set out below). The Investment Manager will also consider global macro trends and developments that influence precious metals as an asset class, as well as the relative attractiveness of each precious metal within the asset class. Bottom-Up Process The Target Fund seeks to invest in companies with strong management teams that have shown the ability to execute with operational stability and have a lower than average financial and operational risk profile. These are identified through analytical research, meetings with management and evaluation of financial and operational developments. To evaluate companies within the Target Fund's eligible investment universe, the Investment Manager applies a set of commodity-specific criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Value: this criteria aims to distinguish between undervalued and overvalued securities based on underlying fundamentals, by utilising a variety of factors to derive a company's intrinsic value (examples include cash flows, expected growth rates, etc.) and then comparing that estimation to the market value to determine if a security might be over- or under-priced; • Asset quality: this criteria aims to distinguish securities based on their existing and potential credit risk, or financial soundness; • Growth potential: this criteria aims to distinguish securities based on their historical and projected earnings growth, cash flow generation, and stock performance relative to the market, their peers, and their own history; and

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Risk: this criteria aims to analyse influencing aspects such as management execution, financial risks, and political risks. In addition the Investment Manager may also employ general input metrics such as buy / sell-signals (any event or conditions which suggest a purchase or sale might be warranted, for example when there is a change in the relevant value of a security compared to other securities or the realisation of an event that significantly changes the value of a security) and analyst rankings, which seek to identify expected performance of a stock over a defined period of time, as well as experience of the analyst teams within the Investment Manager.

Best Case	Capital appreciation and income distribution.
Mid Case	No significant change in investment i.e. no capital appreciation and no income distribution.
Worst Case	Capital loss and with no income distribution.

What are the key risks associated with the Fund?

General Risks associated with investing in a unit trust fund

Market Risk	Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors resulting in a decline in a fund's NAV.
Inflation Risk	This is the risk that investors' investment in a fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation.
Non-Compliance Risk	This is the risk of the manager, the investment manager or the trustee not complying with their respective internal policies, the deed and its supplemental deed, securities law or guidelines issued by the regulators relevant to each party, which may adversely affect the performance of a fund.

Loan Financing Risk	This risk occurs when investors take a loan / financing to finance their investment. The inherent risk of investing with borrowed money includes investors being unable to service the loan repayments.
Country Risk	Investments of a fund in any countries may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which a fund invests in.
Suspension Risk	Refers to situation where the Manager suspends dealings of units in a fund (no redemption or subscription are allowed) under exceptional circumstances as set out in the Prospectus - Temporary suspension of determination of NAV and of the issue, switching and redemption of units. Suspension of a fund may potentially result in unit holders not being able to redeem their units into cash based on their liquidity needs and their investments will continue to be subject to the risk factors inherent in the Fund.

Specific Risks associated with the Fund

Industry Specific Risk	As the Fund invests in the Target Fund which primarily invests in securities in a particular industry, the Fund may be indirectly affected by risk specific to the industry in which the Target Fund invests.
Currency Risk	As the investments of the Fund will be denominated in currencies other than the base currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the base currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments.
Risk of a Passive Strategy	As the Fund adopts a passive strategy of investing a minimum of 85% of its NAV into the Target Fund at all times, this strategy would result in the Fund being exposed to the risk of its NAV declining when the Target Fund's NAV declines.
Risk of not meeting the Fund's Investment Objective	This is the risk that the Fund may deviate from the intended investment objective.
Shariah Non-Compliance Risk	This is the risk of the Fund not conforming to Shariah Investment Guidelines. Non-compliance may adversely affect the NAV of the Fund when the rectification of non-compliance results in losses.
Counterparty Credit Risk	Counterparty credit risk is the risk arising from the possibility that the counterparty may default or not able to fulfill a trade settlement prior or on the settlement date of the trade. This could adversely affect the value of the Fund.

Specific Risks associated with the Target Fund

General Risks	Investment in the Target Fund is intended to produce returns over the long-term. Investors should not expect to obtain short-term gains. The price and value of the shares, and the income deriving or accruing from them, may fall or rise. Investors may not get back their original investment and there is no assurance that the Target Fund's investment objective will be met.
Exchange Rate Risks	The Target Fund's investments and, where applicable, the investments of any collective investment scheme in which the Target Fund invests, may be acquired in a wide range of currencies other than the base currency of the Target Fund. Changes in the exchange rate between the base currency of the Target Fund and the currency of the asset may lead to a depreciation of the value of the Target Fund's assets as expressed in the base currency. It may not be possible or practical to hedge against such exchange rate risk. Exchange rate fluctuations are not systematically hedged by the Target Fund, and they can impact the performance of the Target Fund (which is separate from the performance of its investments).
Equity Markets Risk	Investments in equity securities offer the potential for substantial capital appreciation. However, such investments also involve risks, including issuer, industry, market and general economic related risks and adverse developments or perceived adverse developments in one or more of these areas could cause a substantial decline in the value of equity securities owned by the Target Fund.
Risks relating to Distributions	The directors are entitled to declare dividends out of net income and/or (if that income is insufficient) out of the capital of the Target Fund. Distributions (whether out of income or otherwise) may have the effect of lowering the NAV of the Target Fund. If distributions made out of the capital, there is a greater risk that capital will be eroded and income will be achieved by foregoing the potential for future capital growth of investment and the value of future returns may also be diminished. This cycle may continue until all capital is depleted. Please note that distributions out of capital may have different tax implications to distributions of income. Distributions are at the directors' discretion and are not guaranteed.
Actions of Institutional Investors	Institutional investors may have substantial holdings in the Target Fund. Although they will not have any control over the investment decisions for the Target Fund, their actions may have a material effect on the Target Fund. For example, the Target Fund may have to liquidate assets at short notice and in a way that is economically disadvantageous to the Target Fund in order to meet substantial realisations of shares by an institutional investor. This could adversely affect the value of the Target Fund's assets.
Regulatory Risk	The value of the Target Fund's assets may be affected by uncertainties such as international political developments, changes in government policies, taxation, restrictions on foreign investment and currency repatriation, currency fluctuations and other developments in the laws and regulations of the countries to which the Target Fund is exposed through its investments.
Credit Risk	Credit risk also arises from the uncertainty surrounding the ultimate repayment of principal and interest or other investments by the issuers of such securities. There can be no assurance that the issuers of securities or other instruments in which the Target Fund invests will not be subject to credit difficulties leading to the loss of some or all of the sums invested in such securities or other instruments. The Target Fund will also be exposed to a credit risk in relation to the counterparties with whom the Target Fund trades and may bear the risk of settlement default. Changes in the credit quality of an issuer and/or security or other instrument could affect the value of a security or other instrument or the Target Fund's share price.

Specific Risks relating to the Target Fund	Investors should note that the Target Fund is not capital protected or guaranteed and that the capital invested is not protected or guaranteed and investors should be prepared and able to sustain losses up to the total capital invested. The Target Fund does not hold physical gold or other commodities. Gold mining and precious metal related shares tend to be volatile and are particularly suitable for diversification in a larger portfolio. It must be noted that there are special risks inherent in the concentration of fund investments on particular investment sectors, which is not the case for equity funds invested in more than one (1) sector. Where the Target Fund has a particularly concentrated portfolio and a particular investment declines or is otherwise adversely affected, it may have a more pronounced effect than if the Target Fund held a larger range of investments. The precious metals or minerals industry could be affected by sharp price volatility caused by global economic, financial, and political factors. Resource availability, government regulation, and economic cycles could also adversely affect the industries. Before making any investment decisions, investors should seek, and rely on, their own independent Shariah advice as to the Shariah compliance of the Target Fund and the investment criteria described under the Shariah Investment Guidelines. The opportunities afforded by an investment of this type are therefore offset by significant risks.
Compliance with Shariah Investment Guidelines	The Target Fund will undertake its investment activities in accordance with the Shariah Investment Guidelines. The Shariah Investment Guidelines may require the Target Fund to dispose of investments in circumstances that are less advantageous than might otherwise be the case. In particular, the Main Investment Manager will receive guidance through the Shariah adviser of the Target Fund, as set out in the Shariah Advisory Agreement executed between the Management Company, the Main Investment Manager and the Shariah adviser of the Target Fund. Pursuant to such guidance by the Shariah adviser of the Target Fund, the Main Investment Manager will, for instance, not be allowed to invest in securities and other financial instruments which, in the opinion of the Shariah adviser of the Target Fund, are not or are no longer, in compliance with the Shariah Investment Guidelines. Similarly, cash balances held by the Target Fund from time to time may be deposited on terms which may grant no return on the sum deposited to the benefit of the Target Fund in compliance with the Shariah Investment Guidelines. As a consequence, this may mean that the Target Fund performs less well than other investment funds with comparable investment objectives that do not seek to adhere to Islamic investment criteria (for example the inability to invest in interest bearing investment securities and the amount of any donations to charities made up of cash dividends which have been cleansed). Although the Target Fund intends to comply with the Shariah Investment Guidelines at all times, no such assurance can be given, as there may be occasions when the Target Fund's investments do not fully comply with such criteria for factors outside the control of the Target Fund.
Investor Profile and Volatility	The Target Fund is intended for the risk-tolerant investor who, in seeking investments with strong returns, can tolerate the substantial fluctuations in the values of investments, and the very high risks this entails. Strong price fluctuations and high credit risks result in temporary or permanent reductions of the NAV per unit. Expectations of high returns and tolerance of risk by the investor are offset by the possibility of incurring significant losses up to and including the total loss of capital invested. The investor is willing and able to bear such a financial loss and is not concerned with capital protection. The Target Fund has been designed for investors seeking returns that comply with the Shariah requirements and the criteria set out in the Shariah Investment Guidelines. The Target Fund is open to both Islamic and non-Islamic investors. Due to its composition and the techniques applied by the Management Company, the Target Fund is subject to markedly increased volatility, which means that the NAV of the Target Fund may be subject to substantial downward or upward fluctuation, even within short periods of time.

Note: The abovementioned risks which investors should consider before investing into the Fund should not be considered to be an exhaustive list. Investors should be aware that investments in the Fund may be exposed to other unforeseeable risks from time to time. Investors are advised to consult their professional adviser. Please refer to the Prospectus under "Risk Factors" and "The Information on the Target Fund" for further details on risks.

Please note that if you invest in units through a distributor via a nominee system of ownership, you will not be deemed a unit holder under the deed of the Fund.
